3,500 Reputation Tests

American newspapers lay their reputations on the line hundreds of times every day –

There are from 200 to 500 different news items in a single issue of a U. S. daily.

Whether it rates a big headline or a small one, each of these items must meet the same high standards of freshness, honesty, accuracy and reader interest.

At A & P, the policy that applies to the news Americans read also applies to the food they eat –

In an A & P Super Market there are more than 3,500 different items of food.

Before we put any of these items on our shelves we ask ourselves – Is it fresh? Is the quality high? Is it honestly and accurately represented? Will it satisfy our customers' need? And is the price as low as we can make it through efficient and economic handling?

The record shows that, whether a business deals in facts or in food, this is the best kind of policy to have. It wins public faith for a newspaper or a food store; and it keeps Americans the best informed, best fed people on earth.

How Far Can
An Apprentice Go?

Each individual determines that for himself, of course. But a look at the records of more than 200 trainees who have developed into good apprentices in the Linotype course indicates:

Five are now editors of their own newspapers, four of them in Iowa.
Nine are shop foremen in the plants where they are employed.
Eight now carry union cards.
Seven young women have taken the course and four are still working in the trade. (Three of the four have married but work as part-time operators).
Several are filling combination back shop and front office jobs.

Most of these people are employed on Iowa newspapers. Send us the names of likely apprentice prospects in your community. Talk with them personally about entering the printing field. Have them contact us for detailed information about Linotype training at Iowa.

Your SCAN-A-GRAVER lease provides a lot more than the machine . . .

When you lease a SCAN-A-GRAVER from Fairchild, you acquire the fastest, most efficient and economical method yet developed for producing your own high-fidelity halftones.

You're also acquiring a machine that will never cost you a cent for maintenance, will never be out of order, and will never become obsolete. Under the terms of Fairchild's unique lease agreement, our Customer Engineering Service provides—at no additional cost to you . . .

Regular inspection and maintenance. A Fairchild Customer Engineer gives your machine a thorough check-up four times a year. And in the unlikely event of a sudden, unexpected failure, a 'phone call will bring him to your plant in a matter of a few hours.

Replacement parts when they're needed. You don't have to set aside a portion of your budget for spare parts. The lease agreement covers them.

Safeguards against obsolescence. Fairchild's research department is constantly working on ways to improve the performance and flexibility of the SCAN-A-GRAVER. Since the first machine was leased seven years ago, more than 150 improvements have been incorporated into existing SCAN-A-GRAVERS at no cost to users.

In-plant personnel training. This includes both instruction of operators, and assistance and advice on new techniques for improving quality and producing special effects with your SCAN-A-GRAVER. And every SCAN-A-GRAVER user regularly receives Fairchild's information-packed publications, "Impressions," and "Photo-Advertising."

• Why not get complete information on these advantages of the SCAN-A-GRAVER Lease Plan and Fairchild's Customer Engineering Service from one of our representatives? Write Fairchild Graphic Equipment, Inc., 88-06 Van Wyck Expressway, Jamaica 1, N. Y., Dept. 100-92 S1.

"We cut our costs with our Linotype mixer"

By setting your mixed composition on a Linotype Mixer you avoid time-consuming "cutting-in" and floor work, thus lowering costs and boosting output.

Linotype offers four mixers to meet the needs of every composing room—large or small newspaper or commercial printer.

For publishers and printers who set quantities of large display, the Rangemaster Model 35 offers unequalled main magazine capacity. This means more and bigger type for less money. For the newspaper or commercial shop whose needs can be met by smaller size type, Model 29 is perfect. Where the additional capacity of auxiliary magazines is needed, Models 30 and 36 extend the type range.

Get in touch with your Linotype agency for full details on the economies of Linotype Mixers.

life is a sentence...

but Life is a magazine

Imagine the prisoner's reaction when he hears he's been given Life. What a difference the capital makes!

The capital makes a difference with "Coke," too. When you have occasion to refer to our product by its friendly abbreviation, you'll keep your meaning clear if you make it "Coke" . . . with a capital, please. And you'll help us protect a valuable trade-mark.

P. S. You'll like the life and sparkle in a frosty bottle of Coke. Have a Coke . . . and be refreshed!

Ask for it either way . . . both trade-marks mean the same thing.
